Moneyfacts wins back Moneyextra.com partnership

Moneyfacts is delighted to announce that it will once again be providing financial data to Moneyextra.com, the UK's oldest financial comparison website. With immediate effect, Moneyfacts will once again be the sole provider of financial product data to Moneyextra.com.

Ed Payne, Head of Online Intermediaries and Aggregators at Moneyfacts commented: "This is the start of an exciting partnership which will be of immense benefit to both parties. It is a privilege to be working with Moneyextra.com and particularly satisfying to rekindle an old relationship.

"This deal not only demonstrates that Moneyfacts is the leading provider of financial data in the UK but that we are exceptionally well positioned to react to commercial opportunities in this challenging market. We are listening to the needs of our customers, both old and new."

Richard Mason, Managing Director of Moneyextra, added: "I have been particularly impressed with what Moneyfacts has to offer, from the breadth and accuracy of their data to their expertise and client service support. I look forward to developing a strong partnership to benefit both our businesses in the future."

The Moneyfacts Group won this major account, because of its:

- Spread of mortgage lender data, the broadest in the market
- Accuracy and timing of data feed
- Logical, simple formatting of the data
- Breadth of product offering: mortgages, loans, savings, credit cards and current accounts
- Unrivalled client service support
- Expertise – 21 years of providing finance data and insight into the industry

Note to Editors

About The Moneyfacts Group

Moneyfacts is recognised as the UK's leading provider of independent personal finance information. For the last 20 years, Moneyfacts' information has been the key driver behind many personal finance decisions, from the Treasury to the high street.

Our fast growing consumer website www.moneyfacts.co.uk helps customers understand personal finance products and gives them the ability to check the latest best buy products and to search the whole market for products that suit their individual circumstances.

The group also supplies best buy charts to many of the UK national newspapers, with a total weekly readership in excess of 22,000,000. From its Norwich headquarters, Moneyfacts also provides the raw personal finance data that powers over half of online comparison websites.
